Dry Bulk Market Information

- Market freight rates for Handysize and Handymax declined 34% and 49% in first six weeks of 2012 before partially recovering.
- By contrast, Capesize rates fell over 80% - no significant recovery to date.
- Poor start to 2011 and 2012:
  - Surge in newbuilding deliveries.
  - Seasonal demand disruptions in influential dry bulk trade areas.
    e.g. Indo-Australian monsoon (incl. SE Asia), heavy rain in Brazil, Chinese New Year / winter.
- Secondhand values continue to fall due to financial difficulties of a number of ship owners.

Baltic Dry Index (BDI) versus Baltic Handysize Index (BHSI) & Baltic Capesize Index (BCI)

- BDI: $35,000
- BHSI: $8,864

Dry Bulk Demand

10% increase in 2011 dry bulk demand* reflecting relatively healthy state of activity, albeit offset by excessive expansion of supply

- China dry bulk net imports represent 28% of global dry bulk trade:
  - Forestry products ↑37%; Bauxite ↑49%; Nickel ↑92%; Coal ↑10%; Ore: ↑11%
  - India: reduced ore exports drove tonne-mile demand with more sourced from further afield; coal imports increased 11% and log imports from New Zealand grew >30%

1Q12 Trading Update
Pacific Basin Dry Bulk - Outlook

- China’s continued dependence on imported minor bulks
- Slow steaming because of high fuel prices and weak market
- Scrapping increase
- Severe bank lending constraints increase opportunities for cash rich owners

- Continued excessive newbuilding deliveries
- Hesitant global economic recovery impacted by continued crisis in Europe
- Potentially weaker growth in the Chinese economy and industrial production

PB Conclusion:
- Seasonally stronger activity to temporarily support recently improved Handysize and Handymax rates in 2Q
- Freight rates in 2012 expected to be weaker overall than 2011
- Positive longer term market outlook: generally stronger demand + less onerous orderbook from 2013 = more favourable supply / demand balance

Strategy: Invest in further expansion of our dry bulk fleet – patiently awaiting right opportunities at right price
PB Towage

1Q12 Performance

- Australasian oil and gas project activity continues to grow and drive demand for our offshore project towage services
- Container line and dry bulk export activity continues to impact positively on demand for our harbour towage services
- Expect market improvements to continue in 2012

Offshore Towage

- Australian offshore and infrastructure projects on the rise, e.g:
  - Gorgon project expansion
  - Commencement of Queensland Curtis LNG project

Harbour Towage

- Harbour towage improved in 2011 on increased demand and market share
- PB Towage activities in Middle East recovered quicker than expected after FBSL closure

PB Towage Fleet: 43 vessels
(as at 16 April 2012)

- 35 Tugs (33 Owned + 2 Chartered)
- 7 Barges (6 Owned + 1 Chartered)
- 1 owned Bunker Tanker

PB Towage Fleet: 43 vessels
(as at 16 April 2012)
PB Towage - Outlook

- High oil prices buoying demand for new, cleaner, safer fuel sources
- Australia striving to become a major LNG exporter
- Further improvement in Australian port activity

- Hesitant global economic recovery
- Potential decline in Chinese industrial production impacting Australian commodity exports and port activity
- Increasing market competition & political instability in Middle East
- Ongoing labour market cost pressures

PB Conclusion:
- Improvement in Australasian offshore and harbour towage markets expected to continue in 2012
- PB Towage is well positioned to participate in increasing activity
- Good earnings cover in place for 2012

Strategy: Invest further in towage fleet as specific projects materialise
PB RoRo - Latest Development

- 18 June, announced US$190m non-cash impairment following reassessment of RoRo prospects
- Euro-centric RoRo market severely impacted by protracted European debt crisis and macro-economic and political uncertainty
- Significantly reduced demand for chartered RoRos
- Influx of newbuildings into already over-supplied sector
- We do not have our own route network to fall back on
- Expect flatter recovery in charter rates - not likely to exceed 75% of 2008 peak
- Dysfunctional RoRo sale and purchase market
- Impairment sensitivity: approx. US$30m adjustment for every US$1,000 decrease/increase in daily vessel earnings assumption

Financial Effects:
- Depreciation reduced by approx. 50% to US$3,000/day
- Revised daily vessel costs : US$15,800 to US$11,100, depending if in operation or in lay-up
- Charge allocated to “unallocated others” – not to segment results
RoRo Performance

- Growing number of idle RoRo vessels globally, including our newest 2 vessels laid-up in UK
- Earnings cover: currently 41% of 2012 capacity at US$18,600/day

Business Highlights

- RoRo newbuilding programme completed in January
- Employment
  - 1 on charter to DFDS until 3Q12
  - 1 in Med on 1 year time charter
  - 2 on short term charters in US Gulf region
  - 2 newest ships seeking employment (laid-up in UK)

- 49% US$17,850
- 16% US$13,230
- 4% US$17,850

As at 18 June 2012

- 41% US$18,600
- 49% US$17,850
- 16% US$13,230
- 4% US$17,850
PB RoRo - Outlook

- Scapping of older ships to increase
- Potential albeit limited development of new RoRo trades globally

- Continuing economic crisis
- Weak intra-European trade
  - Stagnant or limited growth in trailer volumes
  - Significant new RoRo deliveries scheduled in 2012 (Large RoRo orderbook: 16%)
  - Most European RoRo operators still have excess capacity, so not chartering new vessels
  - Growing number of idle RoRo vessels globally

PB Conclusion:
- Near-term recovery in charter market unlikely, despite scrapping and limited newbuilding orders
- Downgraded outlook for RoRo earnings in the long term
- Another very challenging, loss-making year for PB RoRo

Strategy:
- Premise for diversifying into RoRo as tonnage provider no longer compelling
- Near-term exit is unrealistic
- No longer regard RoRo shipping to be a core activity
- We will look to manage our RoRo investment and exit the sector in an economically rational manner that realises the maximum possible value for our shareholders over the medium term.
- Takes time, patience, may require some investment in initiatives to unlock trading opportunities

As at 18 June 2012
Outlook

- Dry bulk shipping market is in crisis - market freight rates in 2012 will be weaker overall than 2011
- Seasonally stronger activity to temporarily support recently improved Handysize rates in 2Q
- Outlook for towage market and our PB Towage business is promising
- Another challenging year for RoRo

Key strategic objectives for the Group in 2012:

- On-going dry bulk market crisis should present an acquisition opportunities for well-capitalised owners like us – patience
- Grow our dry bulk customers and cargo contract portfolio
- Invest further in our towage business and fleet as specific projects materialise
- Enhance our towage organisation to improve execution efficiency of our business
- Secure best possible charters and utilisation for our RoRo fleet
- Consider opportunities for further divestment of non-core businesses
